We wish to thank:

- The Minister (Rev. Dr. Karl Rutlidge) and Stewards of the New Malden Methodist Church for allowing us to use the Church for our Exhibition

The Malden Camera Club …

… is where local photography enthusiasts get together to enjoy their art, to get better at it and (probably more importantly) to really enjoy the friendship of our members and the photographic challenges of our activities.

Everyone is welcome to come: you don't have to be a great expert in the technical skills of photography (most of us aren't!), nor do you need to have a really expensive camera. What you need is yourself, and a desire to take pictures that make you and people looking at them feel they have encountered something worthwhile. And a wish to enjoy yourself while you are doing that.

We meet most weeks on a Thursday evening at the New Malden Library – between 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. We have regular talks from outside speakers, monthly competitions to test our photos and to see how they could be improved, and a whole range of different workshops throughout the year to help us to develop different skills. We sometimes meet on Zoom – which is where we have been since the lockdowns started last year.

As well as having meetings at the Library, we regularly go out on photo shoots: we have done several walks even through the last 18 months of lockdowns. In the last few months, we have been to the Mayfield Lavender fields, to Brooklands and a walk in the Blackfriars area … these are great opportunities to take pictures together with other photographers and to improve/share our practical skills.

We are actively involved in helping our local community by being available to take photos of charity events and assisting with local publicity.

Our website – www.maldencameraclub.org.uk - has full details of our programme.

We meet at the New Malden Library in Kingston Road – on Thursday evenings at 7:45 for an 8 p.m. start.

If you are interested in buying any of the prints on display, then please see one of the stewards.
